

HBMA CODE OF ETHICS

HBMA members pledge to:

Exercise sensitive professional and moral judgment in all their activities.

Act in a way that will serve the public interest, honor the public trust and demonstrate a commitment to professionalism.

Perform all responsibilities with the highest sense of integrity.

Maintain objectivity and avoid any conflict of interest.

Continually strive to improve the quality and competence of services performed.

Undertake only those services that can be completed with professional competence.

Exercise care, diligence and careful supervision in providing services.

Maintain confidentiality of patient and client information.

